Raytheon Adjusting To Defense Realities

(A Townsman News Feature)

Persistent reports that Raytheon Co. will ultimately shut down its shrinking Andover operation do not appear to ruffle Harry A. Loebel, plant manager.

Like Mark Twain, confronted with premature reports of his death, Loebel takes the position that the rumors are (in Twain's words) "highly exaggerated."

At Raytheon, hope is a precious commodity: NATO could ask for more production help; Washington's defense plans could change, the plant could land a development contract for some of the company's new products.

Loebel might be considered a blind optimist for subscribing to so many "ifs", but from long experience he is familiar with the vagaries of the defense business. He makes daily adjustments to present realities, but with full knowledge of research aces that could reverse the trend.

When Loebel moved into the manager's chair in 1962, Raytheon's Andover employment was at an all time high of 8,200. Last Friday it was 4,499.

There have been street rumors that the company plans to level at 3,000, but Manager Loebel says not. The company's employment plans are predicated on sales and shift only as the sales picture shifts.

Teachers Reported To Want Pay Hike

Chamber Plans For Lighting

George Haseltine, manager for Dana's Sport Shop, will head the committee for the town's Christmas Lighting Program, according to an announcement from Archie D. McLaren, president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Still $1,800 in debt for lights purchased three years ago for a price in excess of $3,000, the Chamber needs some $2,600 to pay for installation, maintenance, repair, electricity, dismantling, purchase and replacement expenses involved in providing the holiday lighting display, Haseltine said. More than half this amount has been contributed or pledged already by business and professional members of the chamber.

Workmen are already stringing guide wires and preparing the lights for installation preparatory to their illumination Nov. 27. This phase of the program costs the chamber about $1,000, according to Haseltine.

The chairman said he had asked Town Manager Richard Bowen to provide Department of Public Works help with stringing and dismantling lights, but had been refused.

In explanation, Bowen said Tuesday that since the town has voted consistently against financial support for the lighting program, he vetoed worker-assistance which could be construed as an attempt to circumvent the town vote. He added that DPW men are busy with operations in preparation for winter and with finishing numerous small projects before bad weather sets in.

Collector Says Taxes 95% Paid

As of Nov. 2, the Town of Andover had in hand 93.5 percent of all 1964 real estate taxes due it, and 95 percent of the taxes due on personal property.

October was a banner tax month, according to Collector James Christie who reports that the town pocketed a total of $2,541,604, the largest dead-line collection in history. Of this amount, $1,417,134 came in during the last week.

Actually, Andover taxes are due October 1, but property owners are given thirty days of grace. If they pay up by Nov. 1 (Nov. 2 this year

The School Committee will meet with officials of the Teachers Assoc. Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the superintendent's office at Central School. The subject: salaries.

Neither the teacher's organization nor the S. C. sub-committee on pay would say Tuesday just what proposals and counter-proposals are to be made, but requests for increases are predicted.

In the first place, the town is obligated to comply with the State's legislation raising the minimum to $5,000, exactly $400 more than Andover's present minimum.

An unverified report has it that the teachers will ask for a minimum of $5,200 - $5,300.

For some months Barbara Moody and Robert Sherman, members of the School Committee's sub-committee, have been studying the salary schedule and salary policies. Feeling responsible to report first to the School Committee, both Moody and Sherman refused to leak advance information on what they will propose. It is understood, however, that initial talks with the teacher's group made it clear that there are differences of opinion on what should go into the budget.

The Teacher's Assoc. requested that the regular Tuesday session of the School Committee be switched to Monday so that a larger delegation from the organization could attend the joint talks. Conflicting with the meeting was a Tuesday-night Open House scheduled at the High School.

Vandalism Heads Local Crime List

Twenty-six cases of vandalism were reported in Andover during October and 12 housebreaks, more than two per week.

During the same period the Police Department investigated one murder, 11 personal injury and 12 property damage accidents, three cases of delinquency and reported 19 cases of motor vehicle violations to the Registry. Among other items acted upon: six cases of drunkenness, one of indecent assault and one of vagrancy.

RELEASING TROUT TO PREVENT LOSS

Conservationists Fight To Save Coastal Marshes

A citizens' action committee to save 45,000 acres of imperiled Massachusetts salt marshes will launch its program Dec. 28 with an all-day conference of conservation leaders at the Museum of Science in Boston.

The committee, known as The Coastal Wetlands Action Committee, organized by the Massachusetts Conservation Council, is composed of major outdoor sports, conservation and wildlife groups, plus several civic and outdoors organizations not affiliated with the Council.

Allen H. Morgan, general chairman of the Coastal Committee, said that several leading national conservationists have been invited to join state leaders at the December conference. Morgan is executive vice-president of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

The committee will study what has been done in other states and on federal lands and propose a course of action for Massachusetts.

"Scientists report that a salt marsh is the product of 10,000 years of nature's forces at work," Morgan said. "The salt marsh represents such a delicate balance of natural forces that changing one 'just a little bit' may destroy its value forever. It is evident that what salt marshes Massachusetts saves today are the only salt marshes that man will see for generations."

Salt marshes have been described as greater generators of energy and food acre-for-acre than rich Iowa farmlands. Sports fishing and hunting along the coast depend heavily upon marsh food production.

Destruction of the marshes would affect real estate values in many coastal communities, as well as mar the beauty of the countryside, according to Morgan.

FRIENDLY TOWNSMAN FINDS LOST LETTER

Relatives in Ohio and an Avon St. resident are happy because a kind hearted Yankee posted a letter.

Mrs. Hi Dong Chai, 4½ Avon St., reports that on a windy Saturday she left by bicycle to mail a letter at the post office, only to discover upon arrival that the letter was gone.

Unwilling to rewrite what had taken a long morning to compose, Mrs. Chai retraced her route, once in the rain. Faced with failure she turned to hoping that someone would see the letter and send it along.

Someone did just that and Mrs. Chai is grateful.

Hockey Play Begins Sat.

The Andover Hockey Association begins its 1964-65 winter season Saturday at Phillips Academy Summer Smith Rink.

The program is open to boys living in Andover or attending Andover schools who are between the ages of 6 and 15 inclusive. The age of participants is to be figured as of May 31, 1964. No boy will be allowed to participate who has not reached his sixth birthday nor who reached his sixteenth birthday before June 1, 1964. Registration will continue through Saturday morning.

For play, boys are divided into four classifications primarily by age and ability. The schedule for Saturday calls for boys in the 12-15 age group to report at 6:00 a.m.; boys in the 10-11 age group at 8:45; and boys in the 6-9 classification at 9:45 a.m. A selected group of boys in the 12-15 age group will also participate between 7 and 9 a.m. on Sundays. This group will be selected primarily on ability.

Each participant must pay a $5.00 registration fee to cover accident insurance, payable at the time of registration. Checks should be made to the "Andover Hockey Association".

Each participant furnishes his own equipment: helmet, skates, pads, sticks, gloves, mouthguard, etc. The AHA will furnish goalie's protective equipment. No participant will be allowed on the ice without a helmet. Mouthguards are strongly recommended.

The Andover Hockey Association program will run through mid-March.

ATTEND CONCERT

Thirty members of the West Church Pilgrim Fellowship attended a folk singing program presented by Jackie Washington, Sunday at City Auditorium, Worcester.

More than 1,500 young people were in the audience for the show which was sponsored by the Massachusetts Pilgrim Fellowship.

Accompanying the local group were James Stewart, Clarence Remington, Earl Young, Gerry Dixon, Ellen Watson and Susan Kohli.

Board To Get Phone Report

At Thursday's informal Board of Selectmen meeting the Telephone company will make a report on the estimated cost of installing a central switchboard at Town Hall.

Town Manager Richard Bowen expressed the opinion this week that it appeared such a central board would run about the same on a monthly basis as present telephone costs, providing it could be managed with the same personnel. The town spends about $500 monthly now for direct lines to municipal departments, exclusive of school, police and fire departments.

Coming later is a report of what it would cost for installation of a central communications center to clear all public safety calls those coming in by telephone or call box to fire and police departments, Bowen said.

Also on Thursday's agenda: a general discussion of the 1965 budget.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Henderson of Argilla Rd., spent the past weekend in Passaconway, N. H.

Youth Admits Housebreaks

A fourteen-year-old boy admitted Tuesday to nine housebreaks in Andover, among those investigated over a period of weeks by police detectives.

The South Lawrence youth was apprehended by Lawrence Police who notified local officials that he could be considered a suspect.

In one break the boy netted a sum of money so large that police are reluctant to reveal the total, fearing it would be a lure to other would-be thieves.

In addition to the Andover breaks, the boy has admitted to one in North Andover and one in Lawrence. He will be scheduled for an appearance before juvenile authorities in Lawrence court.

Bowdoin Plans Alumni Party

The Bowdoin College Club of Boston and the North Shore Bowdoin Club will sponsor a stag sports night program Nov. 30 at the Midtown Motor Inn, 220 Huntington Ave., Boston.

The program will include a reception, social hour, buffet dinner, film highlights of Bowdoin's successful 1964 football season, and the Bowdoin-Northeastern hockey game at the nearby Boston Arena.

John E. Williams '42 of (28 Lumber St.) Hopkinton, Mass., a Director of the Bowdoin Club of Boston, is in charge of arrangements. Mr. Williams said the program will begin with a reception at 5:15 p.m. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

Dr. Nathaniel C. Kendrick, Dean of the College, will bring greetings from the campus before the football movies. The commentator for the films, which will be shown at 7:15, will be Assistant Football Coach Peter Kostacopoulos.

The program will be concluded in time for the group to attend the second game of Bowdoin's 1964-65 hockey season against Northeastern at 8:30 p.m.

Bowdoin alumni from a wide area of New England are expected to be on hand. Special invitations have been extended to members of the Bowdoin Clubs of Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Springfield, Worcester and Merrimack Valley.

Nurse Writes Flag Tribute

A tribute to the U. S. Flag which draped the casket of the late President John F. Kennedy has been released by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in time for observance of the anniversary of his death.

The tribute was written by Miss Grace Blanculli, of Dorchester, who is a nursing student at Massachusetts General Hospital and Northeastern University.

"OLD GLORY'S LAMENT"

Most people know me as "Old Glory" but any past joy I received has been drained from me. For now I have a permanent resting place in the home of a widow. That is always the hardest way for a flag to end its career.

Yet I have received the honor that every flag envies, I have sheltered that casket of my President. I have ridden with him on the caisson. I have been kissed by the noble wife, clutched by the bewildered daughter, and saluted by the innocent son.

I have been folded by the soldiers whose agile fingers ached to hesitate in their last tribute to their fallen chief. And finally, I have been placed in the lonely hands of that wife.

How tightly she squeezed me! How I wanted to shelter and protect her, too. The tears she fought so hard to control, now trickled down her cheeks and wet the banner she held. I felt so utterly helpless.

Would that she could draw some strength from the symbol of America's freedom! Would that America could draw some strength from her courage! My job is done. I retreat now with her most chosen memories into her grief and ultimate resignation.

BETTY'S NOTES

Had a note the other day from a woman who was puzzled by furniture styles. Specifically, she wanted to know just what was meant by "Traditional" furniture. Traditional includes styles of the Georgian period—18th Century English and French styles—notably Louis XV and Louis XVI. Here are a few other styling motifs high lights which may be helpful: Italian Provincial and Mediterranean, two designs which appear to be moving to the forefront in New England. Italian Provincial today implies modified traditional styles with straight, fluted legs as the identifying feature. Mediterranean, on the other hand, includes Spanish Renaissance furniture—Italian and French designs which have a strong Moorish influence.

The opposite side of the scale finds Contemporary or American Modern which is a combination of straight lines and subdued curves producing a soft outline. Actually, Contemporary is a compromise between Modern and Traditional styles. In our show-rooms, you'll recognize the difference and I'm sure you'll already have a favorite... even if you didn't know it by its official classification. See you here next week.

Best Turkey Ever!

A plump, golden-brown turkey on the table is the season's No. 1 tradition. In this day and age knowing cooks know that preparing the bird is not a complicated job. They know, too, that the simple addition of monosodium glutamate will make their turkey more flavorful, both inside and out. You'll have the best turkey ever this year if you'll follow these easy tips:

Estimate the number of servings desired for the traditional holiday feast and afterward. A 6- to 8-pound bird serves about 10; a 14- to 16-pound bird about 20.

Store frozen turkey in its wrapper to retain its moisture. Thaw gradually in the refrigerator, allowing about 12 hours for a small turkey and 24 hours for a large one. Remove wrapped giblets from turkey cavity.

Wash turkey in cold running water. Pat inside dry with paper towels and leave outside moist.

Sprinkle the skin and cavities with monosodium glutamate to bring out the natural turkey flavor and emphasize the juicy quality of the meat. Use 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate per pound of turkey. Sprinkle half the amount over the skin and inside the cavities; divide remainder between stuffing and gravy.

Allow about 3/4 cup stuffing per pound of bird and pack loosely; it swells during roasting.

Roast turkey in a slow oven (325 degrees F) under a "tent" of aluminum foil to eliminate basting. Allow about 30 minutes a pound for birds under 12 pounds, 20 to 25 minutes for larger birds.

After bird is cooked, let it stand about 20 minutes before serving. This allows the juice to be better absorbed and makes carving easier.

Raytheon Ups
U. F. Totals

Employees at Raytheon Company's Andover Plant have set a new all-time high for per capita pledging to the United Fund, helping the plant surpass its 1965 goal.

More than $73,000 is earmarked for the current Greater Lawrence U.F. Campaign, most of it from the $137,133 contributed by the corporation and its local employees. A small percentage is from pledges made by Raytheon workers in other domestic or foreign operations who have made their pledges payable to Lawrence.

In making the announcement, H. A. Loebel, plant manager and General Chairman of the Greater Lawrence campaign, revealed that the average contribution per employee had increased 36 percent from last year's $18.18 to a record $24.76.

About half the employees not only contributed their "fair share" to the 1965 Fund, Loebel said, but they also signed up for a "continuing fair share" for years to come.

The total of Andover employee pledges is $115,133. Various portions of the balance over Lawrence's $73,000 will go to other United Fund communities as designated by the employees.

Here are a few facts concerning that amazing organ - the human heart. In the course of 70 years the heart will beat nearly ten billion times and, depending on individual's size, it will be pushed from 5 to 10 tons of blood through the veins every day. The big is this prodigious workload. A woman's heart weighs less than a half a pound; a man's less than three-quarters of a pound.

Usually the heart is shaped like your body - slim if you are slim, chunky if you tend to a stout, broad silhouette.

Now for a heart-to-heart extra: your physician's skill is reflected in his prescription, which we fill promptly and with precision at SHAWSEEN PHARMACY, Shawseen Square. Free prescription delivery. Free parking. THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: Remove soap and water marks from glass shower doors by rubbing lightly with sponge moistened in undiluted vinegar.

RAYTHEON ATTACKS CUT-BACK PROBLEMS

What about long-range plans? "We plan a year in advance with a great deal of assumptions," Loebel said in interview Friday. Layoffs began soon after the first of the year, but at budget time they could not have been scheduled at the pace they have occurred in recent months. Plans were predicated on more business than actually developed. "We did not know even as recently as five months ago that such cuts would be necessary," he said.

Despite the changes, the Andover plant is still the biggest in the Missiles System Division. Some division reorganization is underway, affecting particularly the research and development end of the business, but Andover has already made its management adjustments.

Effective Nov. 1 a new organization chart was issued which shows some of the results of belt tightening.

Loebel explains that operations in the old American Woolen Co. mill have been conducted on a three-plant basis. There was, in effect, a missile plant, a ground support equipment plant and a fabrication shop.

As reorganized, the missile and ground support operations will function as one. The fabrication shop has been pulled into the industrial engineering department. This shifting has permitted the release of both Chiefs and Indians where necessary to keep overhead in line with sales expectations.

Just what those sales expectations are or what the Andover plant work has meant in previous years to Raytheon income, Loebel is not permitted to say.

The corporation makes no reports on the dollar volume at any one installation. It does admit in its annual report however, that it does 81 percent of its business with the government, an unspecified amount of it with non-military agencies. Sales in 1963 were $488,920,000.

Right now the Andover plant is working on three projects, according to Manager Loebel. The Hawk is the major and nameable one. The remaining two are top secret items for the present, one a development in the blueprint stage and the other in state of progress slightly more advanced.

Its hopes for new business hinge on this trio. Also possible, support production for NATO and a transfer of other Raytheon, non-missile contracts.

If the corporation makes the move to spread the work around, Loebel believes chances are Andover would draw defense contracts rather than anything from the company's limited field of commercial products.

Oldsters Get U.S. Tax Break

Medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers 65 years and older will be fully deductible on this year's Federal income tax returns.

The full deductibility of these expenses under the 1964 Revenue Act was pointed out today by Alvin M. Kelley, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Boston District. He said this will save elderly taxpayers about $10 million a year in taxes.

Under previous law, expenses for medicines and drugs were included in medical expenses to the extent they exceeded one per cent of adjusted gross income, regardless of the age of the taxpayer.

Insurance C Pay Big De

Massachusetts families received $600,000 in death payments from their life insurance during the three quarters of 1964, according to the Institute of Insurance. This was an increase of $600,000 or 5% over the same period last year. The total paid was 90% since ten years ago, explained the Institute. The great increase in insurance protection owned by American families. Death payments throughout the United States were 119% higher during the three quarters of 1964 than in the same period ten years ago, though the mortality rate among policyholders generally has shown a change. Life insurance force in the United States has risen 140% during the past decade. Death payments were made on a total of 66,900 policies in Massachusetts during the first three quarters of 1964, compared with 60,900 in the same period last year. The 1964 death payments included $62,200,000 under 100 ordinary policies; $41,000 under 13,900 group certificates and $12,400,000 under 33,400 industrial policies.

For the nation as a whole, payments totaled $3,382,800 under 1,829,900 policies of the first three quarters of 1964 compared with $3,163,300 under 1,809,600 policies in the same period last year. ## Insurance Companies Pay Big Death Benefits

Massachusetts families received $11,600,000 in death payments on their life insurance during the first three quarters of 1964, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This was an increase of $5,600,000 or 5% over the same period last year. The total has climbed 90% since ten years ago. Wake T. Newton, Jr., president of the Institute, explained that the increase in death benefit payments reflects the great increase in life insurance protection owned by American families. Death payments throughout the United States were 119% higher during the first three quarters of 1964 than in the same period ten years ago, even though the mortality rate among policyholders generally has shown little change. Life insurance in force in the United States has risen 140% during the past decade.

Death payments were made on a total of 66,900 policies in Massachusetts during the first three quarters of 1964, compared with 68,900 in the same period last year. The 1964 death payments included $62,200,000 under 19,600 ordinary policies; $41,000,000 under 13,900 group certificates, and $12,400,000 under 33,400 industrial policies.

For the nation as a whole, death payments totaled $3,382,800,000 under 1,829,900 policies during the first three quarters of 1964, compared with $3,163,300,000 under 1,809,600 policies in the same period last year. The 1964 figures include $1,866,900,000 under 570,900 ordinary policies; $1,228,300,000 under 449,600 group certificates, and $287,600,000 under 809,400 industrial policies.

First Church Plans Service

Thanksgiving Day services will be held by First Church of Christ Scientist, Andover at 11 o'clock, in the November Club, 6 Locke St. Visitors are welcome.

One feature of the service will be a period when individual Christian Scientists stand voluntarily to express their thanks to God in their own words.

The sermon on "Thanksgiving" - as in all Christian Science services - will consist of readings from the Bible, and also from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. There will be hymns and a period of prayer.

SHAWSHEEN PTA

The Shawsheen School PTA met Wednesday, presenting a program on reading techniques.

Second grade mothers served refreshments and classroom visitations were held.

Camp Fire Girls

The Junior High Campfire Girls met in the Christ Church Vestry, Tuesday evening, Nov. 10. During the business meeting a collection was taken for the United Fund. The group is planning to participate in the Swimming program conducted by the Andover Guild of the Phillips Academy pool beginning Nov. 24. The class will be held weekly at 5:30 p.m.

After much study and discussion the girls decided to be known as the May-Ko-si Campfire Girls. The name is composed of a part from the group name of the three groups represented, Mrs. Walter Pratt assisted in this work.

Refreshments were served by Cheryl MacDonald, Lynn Munson, Priscilla Young and Kris Nelson.

The Happy Wanderers Blue Bird group, third-grade girls from Shawsheen School, recently toured the Audubon Society's Drumland Farm in Lincoln. A conducted tour made it possible for the girls to become acquainted, not only with the domestic farm animals, but also the wild animals housed there.

Mrs. Armor Reece, Mrs. Robert Haeffling and Mrs. George Cairns accompanied the group which included Linda Cairns, Leigh Cleveland, Gayle Feeney, Cindy Haeffling, Debbie Nannis, Nancy Peterson, Malinda Reece, Cheryl White and Ann Wilde.

The Nan-ki-o Camp Fire Girls, fourth graders at Shawsheen School, have been devoting much of their time this fall to aiding the Leprosy Hospital in India. Mrs. Vahey Gulezian, guardian of the group, reports that the girls have been making bandages from old sheets, and are now anxious to learn how to knit bandages for the same cause. Members of the group are: Nancy Baker, Beth Cummings, Donna Frasier, Kimberly Gower, Jeannie Guild, Andrea Gulezian, Wendy McDonald, Donna Pratt, Sandra Shorten, and Barbara Towne.

Rev. Robert E. Bosdorf, pastor of the United Church of Ballard Vale, is in Bon Secours Hospital for dental surgery.

Overweight? Correct weight? Underweight?

Do you watch weight? In a country blessed with an abundance of good food at low price, personal overweight is something that needs to be watched

As green-grocers, we too are weight watchers and thereby hangs a tale.

We know, of course, that fresh vegetables dehydrate and so lose weight. That is why many vegetables are packaged overweight - so that they may be the correct weight during shelf life and at the time of purchase by the public.

But we did not fully realize how much overweight some of our produce could be. An official inspection recently found our bag turnips and bag onions as much as seven ounces over!

In a situation where you can't be correct both at the time of packaging and at the time of later sale, we hope the public is glad to know that some people in the trade lean over backwards to do the right thing by the shopping public.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

In Memoriam

A year ago a sharpshooter's shot cut short the blazing career of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, President of the United States.

The question of whether his death altered the course of history or fulfilled it is a spiritual one, dependant upon each man's attitude toward the fine balance between destiny and chance.

None can question, however, his impact upon the people. His fairy-land existence, his youthful, buoyant, idealistic approach to life and politics revitalized Americans and made them believe again that Democracy could inspire men to be more than mere mortals.

Even those who disagreed with him on some points of policy admired his flair for the Presidency. He played his role with dignity and elegance.

In what could stand as a formula for White House greatness, Fred Reinfield stipulates in his book, "The American Presidency", that "The relationship between the President and the people is delicate and subtle . . . He must express their aspirations in a way that is lofty so that it dignifies their own lives, yet realistic so that it is relevant to their experience."

John Kennedy achieved this relationship.

Political Aftermath

Some criticism was leveled at Town Manager Richard Bowen for his outspoken statement in opposition to the Nov. 3 ballot question on Civil Service coverage for Department of Public Works employees.

Bowen, convinced he had something better to offer in a municipally administered merit plan of classification and compensation, made it clear that he thought both Andover and Andover employees would be better off without further state control over personnel policies. Police, fire and welfare department workers are already covered.

For any who would question his right to speak out, the Charter is a source of information on his authority and responsibility in personnel matters:

"The manager shall appoint, subject to the approval of the board of selectmen, upon merit and fitness alone, and may . . . remove for cause a town clerk, town treasurer, tax collector, a board of public health, a board of public welfare, a planning board, a town counsel and all other officers, committees and employees of the town, with the exception of the elected officials. . . .

"The town manager shall fix the compensation of all town officers and employees appointed by him . . ." (His removal powers, and in some cases his power to set pay, are negated where Civil Service Law applies.)

The manager's authority is clearly delineated. If, as a paid municipal official, he shied from giving his professional opinion on any issue with implications as far-reaching as that of State Civil Service, he would be derelict.

Elsewhere

Northeastern University will establish in June a Graduate School of Professional Accounting for students with undergraduate degrees in non-accounting fields. Leading to a M.S. Degree, the course will prepare students for a career in professional accounting and also to take the C.P.A. exam.

Open from Nov. 25 to Dec. 20 at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, will be an exhibition of 82 drawings, tracing stage history from the late 16th Century (Italy) to the present day (European and American). Title: Four Centuries of Theatre Design.

The Handel and Haydn Society will present Handel's "Messiah" at Symphony Hall, Boston, Friday evening, Dec. 11 and Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, continuing a tradition established on Christmas Day, 1815. The Sunday concert will feature an uncut version of Handel's oratorio, while the shortened "Messiah" will be presented on Friday.

The annual Christmas musical production at Boston's Charles Playhouse will be "She Loves Me," written by the authors of the Broadway hit, "Fiorello." It will open Dec. 23 for a six-week engagement at the Warrenton St. theatre.

Dr. Howard F. Root, director of the famous Joslin Clinic, Boston, will give an illustrated lecture on "Diabetes - Its Treatment and Vision Conservation for Diabetics", at Liberty Hall, Lowell, at 3 p.m., Nov. 22. The free lecture is one of the Moses Greeley Parker series.

New England educators will gather at Lesley College, Cambridge, Friday for the annual Kindergarten Conference. Keynote for the teacher's program will be authoress Helen Heffernan, chief of Sacramento, California's Bureau of Elementary Education.

One statement that sounds like an old wives' tale is actually a scientific fact. You really can tell the temperature by listening to the chirp of the cricket. Both field and tree crickets vary the speed of their chirps with the temperature. One can estimate the temperature by counting the number of chirps per minute, dividing by 4, and adding 40.

In 1955, the federal government owned just under 408 million acres of land in this country - 21.4 per cent of the total acreage. Last year it owned almost 770 million acres - or 33.9 per cent of all the land.

At The Library

Coming Events

NOVEMBER

- 24 Teddy Bears meet in children's room, 10 a.m.
- 25 Start of vacation hours in children's room, 10-12 and 2-6 p.m.
- 26 Closed for Thanksgiving.
- 28 Last day vacation schedule in children's room - 10-12 and 2-6.

DECEMBER

- 1 Great Books Discussion Group, 7:30 p.m.
- Squirrels meet in children's room, 10 a.m.

Vacation Schedule

As is customary during school vacation periods, the library will extend its open hours in the Children's Room. Beginning Nov. 25 the room will be open from 10 a.m. until noon and will reopen at 2 p.m. and be open til 6 o'clock. This vacation schedule will be maintained through Nov. 28. The open hours in the main library will be the usual 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. during the week and 10 to 6 on Saturday. All departments will be closed on Nov. 26, for Thanksgiving Day.

Ethics To Be Topic

When the Great Books Discussion Group convenes at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 1, Aristotle's Ethics will be the discussion topic. This meeting will end the fall season. The next scheduled discussion will be Jan. 5, 1965. The topic which starts off the new year will be The Nature of Things, Books I and II by Lucretius.

"Every art and every inquiry, and similarly every action and pursuit is thought to aim at some good; and for this reason the good has rightly been declared to be that at which all things aim. But a certain difference is found among ends . . ." Aristotle. It is expected that with a topic of such universal implications the coming meeting will be a lively one.

Education Week

To celebrate American Education Week Nov. 9-14, the schools of Andover mounted a combined exhibit in Memorial Hall at the library. For two weeks previously, students at all levels researched their topics and then made charts, maps, models, and pictures to present their knowledge and skills. Every department and each of the grades in the elementary schools and the High School staged the show with imagination. The whole was lighted with colored spots. Besides highlighting new trends in education, the exhibit gave the old hall an exciting different look.

Book Week

It probably is fitting to observe education week and book week simultaneously as was done this year. While the school exhibits occupied the floor above, displays of new books in nearly a dozen fields of interest and of old and memorable books occupied the available display space in the Main Reading Room. Library patrons reserved several hundred books during the first three days of Book Week.

What Andover is Reading

Best sellers at the library this week include Book Week reserves for the following:

Galbraith - THE SCOTCH; McGinley - SIX PENCE IN HER SHOE; Cronin - SONG OF SIX-PENCE; Mary Stewart - THIS ROUGH MAGIC; Sheila Burnford - FIELDS OF NOON; Barzini - THE ITALIANS; Saul Bellow - HERZOG; Lasky - J.F.K. THE MAN AND THE MYTH; Friedman - A MOTHER'S KISSES; Kieran - NOT UNDER OATH.

Movies Anyone?

A few more reservations are still possible on the following films which will be at the library until December 4:

FOR GOD AND MY COUNTRY - Color, 14 min. The 1957 Boy Scout Jamboree; NAUTILUS CROSSES THE CAP OF THE WORLD - Color, 14 min. From Hawaii to England underwater, and the ship's welcome back to New York; PIG TALES - Color, 11 min. Two baby pigs run away but are prize-winners at a county fair; LEGEND OF JOHNNY APPLESEED - Color, 16 min; WILDLIFE IN NORTH AMERICA - 18 min. Denizens of Yellowstone, Banff, the New York Aquarium, and a California bird sanctuary. For teens especially, and all outdoorsmen.

Ornithologist Set To Catch Wild Birds

James Baird of Lincoln probably frees more struggling, entrapped birds than anyone else in Massachusetts.

He knows exactly where to find these unfortunates, struggling to free themselves from mist nets and continue their flight south, because he trapped them.

Across New England - indeed, across America - at this season the silky webs of mist nets billow in the wind like mammoth spider webs. They stretch upright like tennis nets, only higher. When a bird flies into the filmy, black net, it pushes the fine mesh through the stronger cords of the net and finds itself emeshed in a bag.

Baird operates an obstacle course of 10 mist nets spread in the woods of Round Hill in Sudbury, a 227-foot-high dome rising above the Sudbury Valley. Here on this prominence just outside the Sudbury National Wildlife Refuge, he traps 30 to 150 birds each morning. But the only species that really interest him are the blackpoll warblers and myrtle warblers.

An ornithologist with the Massachusetts Audubon Society, Baird seeks more information on the peculiar migration habits of these closely allied species. His work is supported by the National Science Foundation.

While the blackpoll and myrtle belong to the same genus of warblers - cousins, so to speak - the blackpoll migrates to Venezuela in the autumn and the myrtle go no farther than our southern states. Some myrtles, in fact, remain all winter in Massachusetts.

Among answers that Baird seeks are the physiological differences involved in such separate ways of life. Some of these answers can be learned by trapping and weighing the birds.

So far, the work of Baird and Dr. William H. Drury, Jr., research director for the Massachusetts Audubon Society, indicates that blackpolls from Canada land in New England, fatten on autumn foods and then take off in a direct, over-water non-stop flight to Venezuela - a flight of some 3,000 miles.

Factors that indicate an over-water flight for blackpolls include radar tracking of flocks as they take off from New England and the fact that blackpolls become rare birds in autumn in the areas south of New England. While on station in Bermuda, Baird has noted the arrival of large flocks of blackpolls on the island 36 hours after similar flocks left New England.

Even more convincing is the evidence gained by weighing migrating blackpolls and myrtles. Netting, of course, makes the weighing possible. Each species weighs an average of 11.5 grams in normal non-fat condition.

"I have netted blackpolls in Massachusetts that weighed as much as 25.6 grams," Baird says. "The heaviest myrtle taken here weighed 16 grams."

The supposition is that blackpolls gain fat for the long-distance flight; myrtles pick up but little fat since they migrate more leisurely and overland, thus not needing a reservoir of fuel.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - November, 1889

A cold wave is predicted and preparations should be made to receive it. Also look out for your horses and keep them warm. H. McLawlin has on hand a nice line of stable and street blankets and expects soon an invoice of robes of all kinds, which he will sell cheap.

The ladies of Free Church have packed and started on their way two barrels of clothing etc. for a missionary family in Michigan.

The Merrimack Mutual Fire Ins. Co. will pay 70 per cent instead of 60 on five year policies after January 1, an evidence of a prosperous and well managed institution.

The Andover Press has just issued a book containing a list of firms in Boston connected by the Express telephone, compiled by Ned Gleason of this town.

Clubs seem to be the order of the day in Andover . . . the last one to be formed being one for ladies wholly (November Club), and having as its aim social and literary advancement of its members first, the entire town afterwards.

50 Years Ago - November, 1914

The 43rd Annual Ball of the Fire Department took place on Wednesday evening about three hundred people being in attendance. As the new dances are not allowed in Town Hall there was a lack of the enthusiasm that used to be prevalent at these annual events, but the music was good and the older dances will ever be popular, especially among the older people.

The annual football game between Pynchard High and Exeter High was played on the Playstead before a big crowd of enthusiastic supporters last Saturday afternoon and was readily won by the local boys 27-0.

The case of Garabad Margosian vs Peter Hargodan was brought before Judge Stone on Monday evening. It was an assault case, the dispute being over some land in West Andover. After hearing the evidence, the court placed the case on file.

Dr. W. Dacre Walker has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank E. Gleason as a trustee of the Cornell Fund.

25 Years Ago - November, 1939

Benjamin Russem, who first opened his business in Andover 28 years ago, is this week marking his anniversary in his large store on Essex St. in Lawrence. Russem recalls that he started selling in Andover door to door and that hospitable Andover residents inspired him to make women's clothing his life's vocation.

Newly elected officers of the Sons of the American Legion are Warren Richardson, captain; Stanford A. Lindsay, Jr., 1st Lt.; James Collins, 2nd Lt.; Garrison Holt, Jr., sergeant at arms; John Collins, finance officer; Allen Dea, chaplain; Milton Lindholm, adjutant; Paul Cheney, Jr., Philip Markey, John Collins, executive committee.

Miss Esther Elliott, 84 Summer St., played the role of Hattie Tripp in a play, "Dance Macabre" at Emerson College where she is a sophomore.

A streamlined town meeting that lasted 12 minutes, appropriated $7,100 for West Andover water extension.

10 Years Ago - November, 1954

Andover won a 31-6 victory over Exeter academy Saturday in the 75th meeting of the two clubs. It was the Blue's 38th win.

It is reported that the town is facing the possible need in the immediate future for capital expenditures of more than $6 million. Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of High Plain Rd. celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday at an open house attended by 150 friends and relatives.

The Townsman last week suggested making ALL elementary schools eight grades instead of six, doing away with the junior high school and giving the present junior and senior high school buildings over to a four-year senior high. "That's the most sensible plan I've heard," said a former local school teacher regarding the Townsman's suggestion concerning the present school housing needs.

LADY BOWLERS HOLD TOURNEY

November 21 and 22 are qualifying dates for a Handicap Doubles Tournament to be held by the Merrimack Valley Women's Bowling Assoc. Finals will be held Dec. 6 at Plaza Lanes in Haverhill.

The tournament is underway at the following lanes, where application blanks may still be obtained: Atlantic, Lowell; Alpine, Chelmsford; Greenleaf, Amesbury; Plaza, Haverhill; Pleasure, Reading; and Stadium, Lawrence.

Holiday Trimming:

That's Danish Mincemeat Dessert

It's home for the holidays, with family and friends gathering together many times during the festive season between Thanksgiving and New Year's. If menu-planning for each gala dinner and impromptu session is in your hands, you are probably on the lookout for interesting new dishes to add to your present traditional family favorites. This new Danish Mincemeat Dessert is one of those desserts that's a boon to busy holiday hostesses, for pretty as it looks, it's easy to put together. Spicy, fruit-filled mincemeat pie filling from a can is spooned into a pie plate, then topped with a crown of rich Danish pastry. This is pastry that needs no flour and rolling pin to prepare, for like the canned pie filling, it's ready for you to bake, made from a roll of refrigerated orange Danish rolls. The perky dollops of Orange Whipped Cream that garnish the dessert, make use of the icing that comes with the package of rolls—simple, but what a flavor combination!

Danish Mincemeat Dessert

1 can (2½ cups) mincemeat filling
1 can refrigerated orange Danish rolls with icing

Spoon pie filling into a 9-inch pie plate. Unwind rolls and loosely twist into a coil starting at the outer edge and leaving the center open. Bake at 400° for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm garnished with Orange Whipped Cream. Serves 6.

Orange Whipped Cream

Whip ½ cup heavy cream until it forms peaks. Fold in Orange Danish Icing.

BRAIN WAVE STUDY

Isham Infirmary at Phillips Academy and the Boston Children's Medical Center are conducting a study at the academy to determine the normal brain wave pattern for people between the ages of thirteen and sixteen.

PERSONALS

Austin Prep To Be Dedicated Sunday

His Eminence Richard Cardinal Cushing will dedicate Austin Preparatory School, Reading, at 4 p.m. Sunday, after which Open House will be held for those wishing to tour the school.

Cardinal Cushing originated the idea of a preparatory school to serve boys of Northeastern Massachusetts in 1960 and made available one-half the initial construction cost. It was he who invited Augustinian Fathers to supply teachers for the school.

Austin admitted its first classes, 176 freshmen and 24 sophomores, in 1963. Plans are to expand facilities eventually to accommodate 1,200 students.

Minor Fires Are Reported

The Fire Department answered three calls Tuesday and one Wednesday morning, none for a serious blaze.

One false alarm rang in from a box on Boston Rd., Tuesday according to officials. The alarm was pulled by children.

Calls were answered for grass fires on Marland St. and Chandler Rd.

Wednesday morning an engine and a ladder responded to a call on a chimney fire at 17 Marland St. in the home of Alfred D. Tallini.

Human Quarters Cut Areas Left For Game

Two ruffed grouse cocks fighting in front of my home reminded me that my house does more damage than a shotgun to the grouse population.

Where my house now stands, male grouse drummed last spring. The clearing of about 10,000 square feet of woodland for the house site undoubtedly contributed to the chance encounter that set the cocks fighting. For grouse are birds of the deep woods. By clearing the woods, the builder reduced the living space for grouse. The fighting birds have been pushed into cramped quarters, creating a backdrop for friction.

While I offer no brief for hunting, I could have shot a couple grouse each autumn on the house site and grouse still might have thrived there. But where a house sits, a hencouse will not-in-deed, cannot-build her nest. My house has cut off, for as long as it lasts, the production of grouse.

Thus, merely by living and buying a house, we affect the future of wildlife. And, we find ourselves an example of the modern maxim that the axe and bulldozer pose a greater threat to wildlife than the gun. For while the gun may kill - or may miss entirely - its primary threat lasts for moments. But the altered landscape, the destroyed habitat, wipes out generations to come.

To generalize on this theme carries inherent dangers. What one says about ruffed grouse does not necessarily apply to other birds and animals. In fact, among many species - like the shorebirds, for instance - hunting would be disastrous. But grouse, if they can find a woodland in which to live, seem quite capable of taking care of themselves.

The ruffed grouse population this year seems near a peak. But such population burgeoning cannot continue. For grouse are the victims of a boom-and-bust cycle. One year grouse explode from every woodland cover. The next year a man and dog can wear themselves out and never find a grouse. For three centuries man has speculated on the causes of grouse cycles - and he still lacks an answer.

Biologists have tried to stabilize the grouse at peak populations since America was young. Naturalist John Bartram of Philadelphia wrote in 1750 that ruffed grouse "cannot be raised in captivity." Professor C. F. Hoag of Clark University in 1903 reared grouse from wild eggs and ten years later had the first success in breeding them in captivity.

In recent years the development of food pellets and addition of anti-biotics to food has made it possible to raise grouse comparatively easily. The experiments also have proved that berries offer no solution to the problems of ruffed grouse management.

Pen-reared birds will follow the men who release them right back to the hatchery truck. They persist to the end - which comes rather swiftly - in running to greet any hunter with high expectations of being fed.

Phillips Boys Take Art Honors

The Phillipian reports that Phillips Academy captured the Ralph Bradley Art Prize Competition again this year.

The story said: "Andover's point rating topped Pomfret's 6, Middlesex's 5, St. Mark's 4, and Exeter's 3. Other contestants included Deerfield, St. George's, Brooks, and Groton.

"The top award in the entire contest went to Andover alumnus Howard Cutler for three paintings. His prize in general excellence credited five points to the final PA tally and earned him $40.

"A special plaque for a design project called Kindergarten was awarded to Neil Tonken '64, Hal Rose and Mike DeEstrada shared the prize for their dual effort sculpture, Armed Figure.

Chicago Firm Begins Study

J. L. Jacobs & Co., a Chicago firm and former employers of Town Manager Richard Bowen, began local studies for a revision classification and pay plan.

The firm has national and international experience in the field of consultation on public administration and finance. Bowen reports studies similar to that the company will do for Andover have been done on communities both in the U. S. and abroad, according to the manager.

Recent comparable studies have been done in Massachusetts for Suffolk County, Boston, Westfield, Pittsfield and Springfield as well as for the State of Maine, the state of Hawaii and the state of Georgia. Bowen expects the study to be completed by mid-January, in time for budget consideration of any findings that could mean pay increases.

The manager says that his work with department heads on the budget is about half completed. Covered in the initial survey of employees for the pay and classification study will be all town employees not covered by Civil Service except professional school people.

Already underway is a survey of pay scales used in nearby communities and industries. "We are looking for prevailing rates," Bowen said, pointing out that what industry pays is most significant because "that is what you really have to compete with."

Jacobs technicians will be here to review employee questionnaires in which they are asked to describe their own jobs. Each form will be reviewed by the worker's department head before it is reviewed by the consultant who then does field audits, checking over information filed with employees themselves.

Then follows a period of evaluation, Bowen said, after which a pay schedule is developed. Every employee will be notified of the classification Jacobs' auditors think his job should fall within, and each will have an opportunity to ask for review.

Equity, longevity and merit are prime factors to be considered in drawing the plan, Bowen says.

Old Thanksgiving Speaker's Topic

The American Heritage department of Shawsheen Women's Club met Friday at Amos Blanchard House for its first fall meeting.

Speaker for the afternoon meeting at the Historical Society's headquarters was Kathleen Emerson Blaney of Methuen who described "Grandmother's Thanksgiving," and possibilities for adapting her menus for today's "groaning board."

Tea was served by Mrs. Harold Bowen and the following committee: Mrs. Harrison Brown, Mrs. John Batal, Mrs. James Baldwin, Mrs. Maurice Bailey, Mrs. James Byrne and Mrs. Frederick Caspar.

More than 25 per cent of all the taxes collected by state governments during fiscal 1963 came from special levies on motor vehicle owners and operators. In 20 states these taxes - such as registration fees and gasoline taxes - exceeded 30 per cent of all state tax revenue, running as high as 48.2 per cent in Nebraska.

Wedding...

IACOBUCCI - EASTHAM
In a church decorated with greens and spider chrysanthemums, Miss Nancy Elizabeth Eastham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Saville Eastham, 16 Alden Rd., was married Oct. 31 to Mr. Frank Iacobucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Iacobucci, 1669 East Second Ave., Vancouver, B. C., Can.

The afternoon ceremony was held at South Church with Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

MRS. FRANK IACOBUCCI
(Bachrach)

Her gown was ivory peau de soie, fashioned with an Empire bodice, high scoop neckline and short sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace embellished with tiny seed pearls finished the waistline, and a detachable chapel-length train fell from the A-skirt. A finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a head dress of matching lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a crescent cascade of spider mums, stephanotis and English ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Emily E. Head of Methuen, was dressed in a peacock blue gown, its ankle-length overskirt finished with tiny bows down the sides. Her flowers were white spider mums, marguerites, yellow shaggy poms and English ivy.

Dressed in identical gowns were four bridesmaids: Mrs. Robert Greer, Middletown, R. I., Mrs. Robert Hart, Brunswick, Me., Miss Barbara Quayle, Delmar, N. Y., and Mrs. Schuyler Whitehead, Worcester.

Attending the bridegroom was Michael L. DuMoulin of Vancouver. Ushers were Graham E. Parker, Nashville, Tenn.; F. E. Schultz, Victoria, Can.; John G. Iacobucci, brother of the groom; William E. Eastham, Milwaukee, Wis.; John P. Eastham, Albuquerque, N. M., and J. Dana Eastham, Marietta, Ga., all brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Eastham wore a light blue brocade dress with a jacket. Also dressed in light blue, the bridegroom's mother wore lace. Both mothers wore blue hats and corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held at South Church Fellowship Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Abbot Academy, Mt. Holyoke College and Harvard Law School and she attended Cambridge University, Eng.

She graduated magna cum laude from Mt. Holyoke and Harvard

Law, was an editor of the Harvard Law Review and a member of the Beta Kappa at Mt. Holyoke. She is associated as a lawyer with the New York firm of Debevoise, Plimpton, Lyons & Gates.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Britannia High School, Vancouver, the University of British Columbia and Cambridge University, Eng. He graduated from both universities with honors. Mr. Iacobucci is a lawyer with the New York firm of Dewey, Ballantine, Bushby, Palmer & Wood. The couple will make their home at 60 Remsen St., Apt. 3B, Brooklyn 1, N. Y.

Book Attacks Youth Crime

An illustrated booklet designed to help youngsters distinguish between a prank and a violation of law with possible life-time consequences is being distributed in the state for public school use.

"You and the Law" is being distributed in secondary schools in Boston and in the schools of Middlesex, Norfolk and Hampshire Counties by bar associations.

The booklet was prepared at the request of the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Delinquency by the Massachusetts Bar Assoc. and the Lincoln Filene Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs of Tufts University for use in citizenship training classes.

The booklet was tried on a pilot basis in 50 public and parochial schools in 1963 with teachers reporting a new understanding of law and an appreciation of the problems of law enforcement.

HOME FROM HIGH ADVENTURE are these youngsters and mothers from Free Church Cooperative Pre-School who took a trip to Boston and back on the mighty Boston & Maine. From top to bottom, the travelers are Mrs. Richard Brooks, Douglas Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Pamela Gardener, Peter Barrett and Philip Gaynor. The full class of 20 four-year-olds made the trip under the supervision of Mrs. Thayer Warshaw, teacher and mothers. (Cole)

Wine and Cheese On Benefit Menu

Andover hosts and hostesses will have a chance to compare the flavors of various domestic wines and learn something about their correct usage Nov. 22 when Beta Sigma Phi holds its charity benefit Wine Tasting.

Sampling will go on between the hours of 5 to 7 p.m. at Rolling Green Motor Inn. A variety of wines and complementary cheeses will be served.

Information on the correct use of wines is being made available by a domestic wine producer.

Co-chairmen for the event are Mrs. Everett Hall and Mrs. Peter Clarkson.

Sharpe Named Vice President

Clifford A. Sharpe, 197 Andover St., Ballardvale, has been named vice president of New England Building Specialties, Inc., Boston. Sharpe joined the company three years ago as assistant estimator, taking over as chief estimator of the school furnishings division a year and a half ago. The announcement of his latest promotion was made at a banquet held in Foxboro late last month.

An Andover High School graduate, Sharpe attended Wentworth Institute in Boston, and is currently enrolled at Suffolk University, evening division.

TRAFFIC BAN

Holiday travelers should be aware of a 48-hour ban on all traffic over the Salem-Beverly bridge on Route 1-A.

To permit the laying of concrete for the bridge's grid deck, the bridge will be closed from 9 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 25 to 9 a.m., Friday, Nov. 27, according to State DPW Commissioner James D. Fitzgerald.

Ragweed Bad For Men But Good For Birds

The great Swedish botanist Carolus Linnaeus named the American ragweed Ambrosia, which means "food of the gods." So far as wildlife and allergists are concerned, he might better have named it "food from the gods."

For ragweed not only generates some of the worst cases of hay fever but also scatters seeds most beneficial to wildlife, particularly birds. Ragweed exists as such a virile mixture of good and bad that few conservationists mention it. Its seeds are eaten by 71 wild-life species, all but nine of which are birds.

For 75 years campaigns against ragweed have been favored projects for Boy Scouts and garden clubs. Cities have financed drives against the weed. New York City spent more than $750,000 a decade ago on a massive assault on ragweed — and throughout the nine-year campaign ragweed flourished undiminished.

The American Foundation for Allergic Diseases once suggested that the public could spend more in one year than the current national debt and still fail in an attempt to up-root the ragweed.

The reason: ragweed is among our most persistent native annual plants whose seeds remain viable for years. In more modest English, that means that when ragweeds shower seeds upon the earth, they have seeded the area for years to come. All the seeds do not sprout plants the following year. Some remain inactive for several years and then produce new plants.

The number of years that a weed seed can lay dormant in the soil has been estimated variously as five, ten or forty. Such a disparity of experimental results probably illustrates the erratic nature of ragweeds rather than reflecting on experimenters.

To the discomfort of hay fever sufferers, ragweed does not depend upon insects to pollinate. It releases pollen grains into the air and the wind disperses them for miles. The pollen grains are about one-fifth the diameter of the average human hair.

Although it may not be particularly useful knowledge to the average hay fever sufferer, the chemical within the pollen which causes the malady is known as Trifidin A.

What may be of value, however, is the knowledge that there are pills and injections which relieve hay fever. So, if you suffer with reading this, forget about pulling up ragweed and see your physician instead.

Government OK's Sewer

The federal government has approved installation of a sewer connection to the Lowell St. extension for construction of the Internal Revenue Service Center.

The extension was requested along with two others when it was discovered some weeks ago that there would be surplus funds in the Accelerated Sewer Project budget.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency has refused a Lincoln extension on the grounds that it does not fall within the scope of the project.

It had been expected that the would refuse the IRS extension on the same grounds.

Many Eligible For Insurance

More than 51,000 Massachusetts veterans may not know that they are eligible for the re-opening of GI insurance, according to William F. Connors, manager of VA's Boston office said today.

They are those whose disabilities, although adjudged to be service-connected, are so slight that they do not rate monthly compensation payments.

The fact, however, that these disabilities are service-connected makes them eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance.

The VA has no way to trace these individuals to notify them of their eligibility. Veterans receiving compensation checks, on the other hand, can be notified through the mails.

The majority of these 51,000 veterans have lost complete touch with VA.

VA records show, however, that nationally 1,600,000 veterans of World War II or the Korean Conflict period have been adjudged service-connected in a non-compensable category.

The VA is enlisting the aid of patriotic, military and other service organizations in an effort to reach these veterans who otherwise never learn of the opportunity to obtain the GI insurance coverage that they either failed to take during service or allowed to lapse all or in part, since that time.

These veterans are probably entitled to the lowest insurance rates under the reopening plan since their physical impairments are of such a slight nature, Connors said.

William B. Kent & Sons

William B. Kent started his business by selling ice from the trunk of his car in 1934. Soon after, he purchased the first truck used by the firm, a model A. From this beginning, Mr. Kent has built an organization with over ten vehicles, some 25,000 square feet of storage space, and an enviable reputation. The sons entered the business in 1939 and the firm became William B. Kent and Sons, Inc. William B. Kent, Jr., is Assistant Treasurer and a Director of the Corporation, while Gerald and Robert Kent are also Directors. The firm's clerk is Mrs. Kent and William Sr. is President and Treasurer. They affiliated the firm with "The Gentlemen of the Moving Industry", North American Van Lines in 1952, and now the Kents can offer service to any point on the globe. In 1957, they moved to their present location when construction was completed of the main office and storage building, this on about five acres at 550 Turnpike, North Andover. In 1963, an additional storage building and garage was added. Today the firm's operation is fourfold; local moving, interstate moving, North American Van Lines Agency and Warehouse operations.

Thanksgiving Special

A FREE turkey, family size, about fifteen pounds will be offered free with the purchase of any major Hotpoint appliance sold by the MID-CITY Supply, Inc., 92 Broadway, Lawrence. But for more than the free gobble, all these Hotpoint appliances are specially low-priced for this sale. There is a complete selection of washers, dryers, refrigerators, and stoves, and these are available in most of today's popular colors. And MORE important than any other consideration when buying an appliance is service. Mid-City Supply maintains its own service department with factory-trained mechanics. The reliability of every appliance is guaranteed not only by Hotpoint, but by the excellent reputation maintained by Mid-City Supply. Drop in and make your selection before the holiday and receive your gobble free. But drop in anyway and get to know these nice folks at 92 Broadway.

Decorating Problem???

Have you that difficult room, such as a bar or playroom where the just-right touch of dash is missing? You need something that will just add the finishing touch and haven't located it yet, or perhaps don't even know just what it is you need? Well, relax. Or rather, don't! Go over to The Columbia Auto Seat Cover Company, 165 South Broadway, Lawrence, and look at the new BARREL chairs this firm is creating. Made of genuine, used bourbon barrels of solid oak, and finished with nothing but a protective spray that doesn't conceal the natural beauty, and covered with real easy chair materials, and naugahyde topping — they are distinctive! And the tough covering material can be put on in hundreds of colors. But if you think that's the final touch for your room, talk to Joe Messina. He'll make almost anything in the playroom-bar furniture line. Then your room will be finished.

Almost Time

Yep. Pretty soon the winter snows will be swirling around and all that shoveling will have to be done. However, some lucky folks have already visited the Meier Company, 56 Berkley Street, Lawrence, and have picked out their new snow-thrasher. Meier's has Ariens, Toro, Snow-Bird and the new electric Sunbeam all in stock. And every machine sold has a one year GUARANTEE, including service. The modern repair shop can handle any machine and most parts are stocked. Factory-trained repair men can put your machine in tip-top condition for the coming winter. Used snow throwers are available in limited numbers from $35.00 up. While you're in, look at the tremendous reductions on lawn mowers. Also, for Christmas, there is a complete selection of bicycles, including the popular Sting Ray, or Beat-nik bike, as it's called. But remember, when you buy at Meier's, you're getting service, and a reputation that proves it.

Seventy seven Years Young

After 77 years in Lawrence, one of Essex County's oldest and largest furniture stores is still a family operated business. Rather remarkable. But this is easily understood when you visit Michael J. Sullivan, Inc., 266 Essex Street, Lawrence. They handle all MAJOR brands of the best in furniture. They even maintain in the store, a Gift and Home-Planner Shop so that folks can browse for ideas and selections. What is it? Why, five full rooms completely furnished — dinette, bedroom, living room, dining room and den. Free delivery and credit arrangement up to two full years are other nice features. And specials? How about this? Real Simmons mattress and box spring combinations, twin or double originally $119.90, now only $99.00. So there are many, many reasons to visit MICHAEL J. SULLIVAN, INC. Drop in soon.

GARDEN CLUB DONATES TO AVIS RESERVATION

The Andover Garden Club, in keeping with its traditional concern for conservation, has presented a check for $100 to the Andover Village Improvement Society to help finance purchase of the Shawsheen River Reservation. Mrs. Ralph Hill, president and Mrs. Charles P. Howe, conservation chairman, made the presentation to AVIS President Albert Retelle at the reservation site.

Other conservation projects recently supported by the club include a donation to the campaign to save "The Garden in the Woods," located at Framingham and "World Gardening", a project to help underdeveloped countries get on with their gardening. The club annually presents a tree to the town on Arbor Day.

Dentists Meeting At Country Club

Dr. Milton J. Meyers, secretary of the Merrimack Valley District Dental Society, is on the committee for arrangements for a meeting being held today at Andover Country Club.

The MVDDS has joined with the North Shore District Dental Society to honor Dr. John W. Hein, president of the Massachusetts Dental Society. The dinner meeting begins at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Hein, a Harvard professor and former dean of Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, will speak on "The Second Century's Challenge - Meeting Full-time Problems on a Part-time Basis."

Housebreaks Investigated

Police are investigating two weekend housebreaks.

The home of Mary Webber, 132 North St., was entered Sunday and a sum of money estimated at $10 to $15 was taken, police report.

On Saturday officers discovered that the home of Edward F. O'Leary, 117 Bellevue Rd., had been forcibly entered. It is estimated that 100 stereo records were taken, but until the owner returns home there will be no complete inventory.

The thieves gained entry to the house by forcing the door to a rear fence. Jewelry boxes and drawers in the house were ransacked.

FLOWER TALK

On Monday at 8:30 p.m. Leonard Brown of the W. T. Grant Company will speak at the Friendly Guild of Christ Church meeting.

His topic "Artificial Flower and Fruit Arrangements". Mrs. Robert G. Goodwin is refreshment chairman assisted by Mrs. Rudolph A. Perron, Mrs. Edward P. Pettoruto and Mrs. Alfred R. Harris.

Club Sponsors Turkey Shoot

The Annual Turkey Shoot will be held all day Sunday, November 22, beginning at 9:30 a.m., at the North Reading Rifle Club. The whole family may participate in this event. Shooting experience is not necessary to win a turkey. Lucky targets will be used and all guns will have open sights. For those who want more of a challenge, an outdoor swinging target will be provided with a 410 gauge shotgun.

A Get-Acquainted Membership Drive will get underway on Nov. 22 and will last through Dec. 31. During this period, no initiation fee will be required.

TOWN IN GOOD TAX POSITION

because the due-date was a Sunday, the town waives interest charges. If they are delinquent beyond this date, however, interest is charged from the Oct. 1 deadline.

Christie's office was flooded with payments during the past month, some $2.4 million of the $2,971,652 received so far from real estate owners arriving within the 30-day period. At least 50 percent of the last minute payments are made, Christie estimates, by banks which collect and hold tax money along with mortgage payments.

In October a total of $120,327 in personal property taxes was paid, boosting the total now collected to $146,364. During the same period Christie collected $21,259 in motor vehicle excise taxes.

PAUL EARNS HONORS

Steven L. Paul, 2 Longwood Dr., was named to the honor roll at Wilbraham (Mass.) Academy on the basis of his academic work during the first period. Mr. Paul who earned first honors, a junior at the boys preparatory school, is the son of John Paul.
